When "Old Reliable" Bill Taylor came to the bat in the ninth inning of yester-day's game between Wheeling and New Castle, the score was 10 to 9 in favor of New Castle. Previous to this Whaley had singled and Messett had cracked out the first hit he has made on the and singled and Messett had cracked out the first hit he has madh on the home grounds, a fine two-begger to center. Then Garvey was an out to Gill in left field. A great deal depended on Taylor, who had been hitting like a send, one of his hits being a Romer in the eighth. The fans on the bleachers called to "Bill" for another four-bagger, and he responded nobly. Catching one of Hewett's swift shoots fairly on the trademark, he sent the sphere through the air at a two-minute clip. From the moment it left the bat the spectators realized it was a homer and the scene that followed is seldom duplicated on a ball ground. Every one, almost, of the cight hundred spectators was on his feet yelling like a Comanche. As Taylor trotted leisurely around the diamond, carefully touching the bases, the enhusiasm grew until it amounted to an ovation for the popular short-stop. That hit seemed to send Hewett up into the air, for after that the hifp and runs eame thick and fast and the game was speedily clinohed for the Nallers. O'Brien got free transportation, Coyle and Lyons singled, Coyle was given out at the plate on Easton's hifled hit, Curtis hit for a base. Whaley was given a life on Ross' third error, Messett made his second hit of the inning and Garvey retired the side on a fly to Tale in cen-

O'Brien got free transportation, Coyle and Lyons singled, Coyle was thrown out at the plate on Easton's infield hit, Curtis hit for a base. Whaley was given a life on Ross' third error, Messett made his second hit of the inning and Garvey retired the side on a fly to Tate in center. When the smoke of battle had cleared, the chalk artist was industriously engaged in decorating the Wheeling side of the score board with un's' that was an artistic dream. an 'S' that was an artistic dream. In their half New Castle went out in one-two-three order.

The game was won and lost several times. In the opening inning the Nailers did business with Mr. Hewett in a manner that threatened to put him out of the business. Taylor singled, O'Brien reached first on Fleming's error, Coyle was an out, Lyons hit for a base, so did McGinniss. Curtis hit to the infield and McGinniss. Curtis hit to the infield and McGinniss was thrown out at the plate. Whaley hit for two bases, so did McGinniss was thrown out at the plate. Whaley hit for two bases, the state of the state of the inning's work.

New Castle scored one in this inning and two in the second. In the third the visitors went to the front with two more runs. Fleming singled, Russell and Gill were outs and Miller. Tate retired the side by striking out. The visitors lengthened their lead in the fourth with another pair. Singles were made by Hewett and Natress. Fleming sacrificed and Taylor's fumble brought in two runs.

Wheeling tied the score in the sixth inning, After Messet thad filed out to Miller in short right field—a pretty catch—Garvey hit for one base. Then Taylor scored the second out of the inning and the prospect for runs was not good: Here, however, came an exemplication of the glorious uncertainties of the national game. Two-basgers were cracked out in succession by O'Brien and Coyle, and with a single by Lyons brought in the three runs that tied the score.

Greatly to the dismay of the crowd Greatly to the dismay of the crowd, however, the visitors forged three ahead in the seventh. With Russell out, Garvey gave bases on balls to Gill and Miller. Then came Ross' two-bagger. Tate's sacrifice, a single by Graffius and a double by Hewett. In the eighth the Nallers came up within one of the visitors. Taylor led off with a homer, O'Brien made his second two-bagger, followed by singles from Coyle and Lyons. With two runs secored and two on bases, with only one out, Easton, who went in to bat in McGinniss' place, struck out, and Curtis was an out from Miller to Russell.

Then came the glorious ninth.

BASE BALL COMMENT.

This afternoon the concluding game of the series with New Castle will be played. With pleasant weather the park will be crowded, for the two games of the series already played have arousded more base ball enthusiasm in Wheeling than has been in evidence in recent years. In to-day's game Easton or Campbell will pitch, probably Campbell, and for the visitors the pitching will be done by Hickman, who pitched such a fine game on Thursday. The game will be called promptly at 3:20 p. m.

Smith and Lipp, pitchers of the New Castle team, are laid up with sore arms, which prevent them from taking their regular turn in the box with Hewitt and Hickman, who are doing all the pitching for the leaders just now. Lipp is especially formidable and the Nailers are fortunate in not having to tackle bim this week. him this week.

When Hewett came to the bat in the second inning, the fans heaved a sigh of relief, thinking the "farmer" would keep up his record as a weak hitter. When Hewett knocked the ball over the right field fence for a homer. Wheeling cranks became possessed of a very high opinion of his ability as a batsman, and this was strengthened when he made a two-bagger and a single later in the game.

Carvey pitched a good game, though hit safely thirteen times, with a total of twenty bases. He had good control ex-cept in one inning, and six of the ten runs scored were due to misplays.

The hammering Hewett received was something awful, and was the worst beating any Inter-state pitcher has received this season. Twenty-two hits with a total of thir -three bases tell the story of the work of the Nailers with the stick Of these Taylor led with four hits and a total of ten bases, the best battling performance of the season with the exception of "Scappy" Joyce's four three-buggers at Pittsburgan the other day. Coyle and Lyons had four hits apiece. Every man on the team got one or more safe drives. For the visitors, Hewett led with the stick, having three hits with a total of seven bases.

It takes presence of mind to come out right in anything, and a senial pedagogue from here has that quality to burn. In company with a Grafton physician, visiting here, he took in the Japs' performances at the Wheeling park ghe other night, and going out on the motor, his dicer was selaed by the winds and suddenly borne aloft out of mortal's sight. Then the presence of mind got in its work. Defity knotting his handkerchief into a temporary head dress, his journey to the park, and thence to Benwood, was just as though nothing had happened.

Every time there is a big fire in this nothing had happened.

Every time there is a big fire in this vicinity there is talk of an engine or reel for Benwood, but a few days afterward the subject is forgotten. The close proximity of Wheeling gives a feeling of security to property owners, and then there is the insurance men to fall back on. "Necessity is the mother of invention," and Benwood's "bucket brigade" is famous fighting fires, and the amateur firemen on many occasions have done remarkable work.

The Benwood Central school com-cannot be a consequence of the wind of the wedding ring is only the setting. There is no place in Nature's economy for a childless marriage. Wedded couples that are childless are never truly married. A baby is the tie that binds. The baby is the pledge that makes husband and wife one in nature and in fact, and that traches mutual self-sacrifice and sympathy. Thousands of couples are childless because of the wife's neglect of her health as a woman. Too few women fully appreciate the importance of keeping healthy and vigorous the organs upon which motherhood is dependent. As a consequence, they are weak where they should be strong, and motherhood is either an impossibility or a torturesome and designous ordeal. This is easily remedied.

The most wonderful medicine for women is Dr. Pierre's Favorite Prescription. It acts directly and only on those delicate organs upon which the perpetuation of the race depends. It allays inflammation, soothes pain and makes those organs healthy and vigorous. It prepares for motherhood. It makes the expectant period comfortable. It makes buby's coming easy and almost painless and insures health in both mother and child. Druggists sell it.
